

We understand the latest government announcement reducing the amount of guests permitted at weddings will be affecting and worrying many people. We are working on the best way to support couples.

Please bear with us at this time as we are prioritising imminent weddings and looking at options for weddings due to take place before the end of March 2021.

We are hopeful to be back to normal by April however please be reassured we will continue to be flexible in our approach.

If the situation does not change, we will offer postponement as an option three months prior to a wedding date. This time frame will hopefully provide more clarity on what restrictions may be in place on your date and give enough time to make new arrangements which we will offer support with.

We will also be offering the option to proceed with whatever restrictions are in place and will amend quotes accordingly, if necessary.

We are part of a large network of venues to ensure we remain consistent with what others are doing and are kept up to date on the latest from the Government taskforce. Unfortunately that doesn't mean we are privy to what will be announced at any time before everyone else so it takes us a little time to clarify and absorb the detail.

Finally, we are truly sorry your wedding planning experience is not the usual joyous activity it should be. All of us are having to accept change and adapt our expectations. However, we urge you to focus on the fact that you can still have a very special celebration even if it may not look the same as the day you had planned.
